Grace-Street Baptlat Church Opened-Mr. Charles Inglis at Old Market Hall-Notes About the Association.

When Richmond awoke on Sunday morning it was learned by the greater number for the first time that snow had fallen during the night and that the soft, ficecy flakes were still ping earthward. The weather was deunpropitions, and many who were foring from coughs and colds remained in-DOTE. As a consequence attendance at the many churches was much smaller than usual and many of the houses of worship did not had evening services.

Crime at a Discount-Captain James Simpson Met With an Accident-Introductory Sermon by Rev. W. C. Valden.

Rev. W. C. Vaiden arrived in the city with his family Saturday evening and Sunday morning preached his introductory sermon to quite a large congregation considering the very inclement weather.

It was Mr. Vaiden's first appearance in this city and he completely won the hearts of his people. He presents a fine appearance in the pulpit and he delivers in splendid style and with great pathos and power his masterly compositions. He is considered one of the brainiest and one of the best ministers in the conference and his location in this city is the limited congregation, he clearly demonstrated his power and ability as an eloquent strated his power and ability as an eloquent and able preacher. BEAUTIFUL SNOW, Greatly to the surprise of the people of this city was the snow storm of Sunday. It came as suddenly and unexpectedly as the rain of Saturday night, and, though, rather more pleasant to look upon, was correspondingly more disagreeable. In this city there was a very little drift, and it fell to a depth of about tweers in theses. In Chesterfield the fall was about the same as here. Sunday afternoon the merry jingling of sleigh bells was heard on the streets, in spite of the continuous falling of the laky element. Sieighwas heard on the streets, in spite of the continuous falling of the flaky element. Sieighing yesterday was very fine, and quite a number were out entoying the bracing breezes.

In consequence of the snow on Sunday, the churches were not as well attended as they otherwise would have been. Street-car travel was rather interfered with, fly the use of snow plows and other appliances, however, the cars were started, and by Sunday aftermoon were giving a very good service. The electric cars were running about on schedule time yesterday. The horse cars were running and every twenty minutes yesterday inorming and very twenty minutes yesterday morning at were being drawn by four mules exch. Late in the afternoon the two extra mules were put on and regular schedule time was inn the remainder of the day.

As is generally the case here after a snow storm, the streets are very mindy and the sidewalks during the day are wet and sloshy.

IN TOLICE CHICLES.

While Manchester is rapidly increasing in numbers, the misdeeds of her people are growing beautifully less. This speaks in highest praise of a rapidly growing city. During the month of November last year there were seventy-two arrests-two for relony, thirtythree for misdemeanor and thirty-seven for ordinance violotions. For the mouth closing last night there were thirty-live arrests—five for felony, seven for inisdemeaner, one for lunacy, and twenty-two for ordinance viola-tion. "This inside story of the debt deliberations has come to the News. In the June meeting the Olcott committee tried to brow-beat the Virginia commission and threatened a tidal wave of coupons if they were not met on a twenty-million basis. Lieutenant-Governor Tyler boldly dared the bondholders to attempt such a scheme. He is quoted as saying. Let the bondholders precipitate a shower of coupons that will cripple Virginia to an extent that will close our assiums, empty our jails, take the salaries from our Commonwealth's attorneys and public school teachers, and they will arouse a million and a half of Virginians that they cannot silence."

"This brave position told with the Olcott committee and led them to seek to keep the proceedings of the last meeting as between
